Last fiscal year the Academy of American Poets concluded its eighty-fifth year of service to our nation’s poets, and it was an historic year for our organization. We became the nation’s largest financial supporter of poets and poetry programs, and, with the support of our members, donors, Board of Directors, Chancellors, and staff, we reached more readers than ever before with our free programs and publications.

Poets.org, one of the most popular poetry destinations online, was visited close to 70 million times. In addition to poems, we are constantly diversifying the content available on the site by adding hundreds of audio and video clips of poets reading their work, hundreds of new biographies, book reviews, essays, and fifty original and expertly produced K–12 lesson plans with activities.

Poem-a-Day has made our organization one of the most prolific publishers of contemporary poetry. We published 260 new poems by today’s poets, and the series has grown to have more than 210,000 subscribers. Thanks to e-mail, web, social media, and syndication, last year Poem-a-Day reached over half a million readers each day. No other publication presented new work by poets on a daily basis to more readers.

The Academy of American Poets Laureate Fellowship, launched in April 2019 with support from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, awarded more than $1 million to thirteen poets in recognition of their literary excellence and to help support their civic projects. The recipients were Claudia Castro Luna, poet laureate of Washington State; Grace Cavalieri, poet laureate of Maryland; Molly Fisk, poet laureate of Nevada County, California; Jaki Shelton Green, poet laureate of North Carolina; Fred L. Joiner, poet laureate of Carrboro, North Carolina; Robin Coste Lewis, poet laureate of Los Angeles; Ed Madden, poet laureate of Columbia, South Carolina; Adrian Matejka, poet laureate of Indiana; Jeanetta Calhoun Mish, poet laureate of Oklahoma; Paisley Rekdal, poet laureate of Utah; Raquel Salas Rivera, poet laureate of Philadelphia; Kim Shuck, poet laureate of San Francisco; and TC Tolbert, poet laureate of Tucson, Arizona.

The fellowship enabled these poets to undertake meaningful, impactful, and innovative poetry-centered projects within their communities, helping to address issues important to their regions and our nation.

National Poetry Month in April kept poets busy with thousands of readings, workshops, and book signings. As the founder of the occasion, we served as the official online information hub. We also engaged readers with many initiatives, including Poem in Your Pocket Day, on which people carried and shared poems with one another; the Dear Poet project, which invited students to write letters to our Chancellors after reading their poems—more than 1,500 students from twenty-seven states participated. For the first time, in 2019, we invited students from all over the United States to submit designs for the National Poetry Month poster. We had 450 submissions, and the winning design by San Jose, California, high school student Julia Wang was judged by the poet Naomi Shihab Nye and graphic designer Debbie Millman. We distributed over 100,000 posters to classrooms, libraries, and bookstores nationwide.

Poetry & the Creative Mind, our annual annual gala at Lincoln Center’s Alice Tully Hall, was held on April 24, 2019. This special event celebrated the influence of poetry on other disciplines and the lives of readers. More than 1,000 audience members enjoyed poems presented by luminaries including the Emmy Award–winning journalist Ann Curry, musician from the Magnetic Fields Stephin Merritt, James Beard Award–winning chef Daniel Rose, artist Toyin Ojih Odutola, actors Ellen Burstyn and Josh Charles, philanthropist David Rockefeller Jr., Irish Ambassador Daniel Mulhall, Tony Award–winning dancer Savion Glover, and Pulitzer Prize–nominated memoirist, poet, and president of the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, Elizabeth Alexander. We also presented the inaugural Academy of American Poets Leadership Awards to Andrews McMeel Publishing; the Civitella Ranieri Foundation; Eunice Panetta; and Sonia Sanchez, for being an outstanding publisher, partner, patron and poet.

We were pleased to award the Academy of American Poets Prizes providing over $200,000 to talented poets at all stages of their careers, including the Walt Whitman Award, given in partnership with Graywolf Press and the Civitella Ranieri Foundation; the Wallace Stevens Award, for proven mastery in the art of poetry; the Academy Fellowship, given in partnership with the T. S. Eliot Foundation; and the Ambroggio Prize, for a manuscript of poems written in Spanish and English. We also celebrated more than 200 talented student poets, the winners of our University and College Poetry Prizes, all of which are named for the generous donors who have endowed them.

Our season of live events and readings included conversations between Richard Blanco, the Presidential Inaugural Poet and Academy of American Poets Education Ambassador, and contemporary landscape photographer Jacob Bond Hessler; and distinguished and award-winning poet Kimiko Hahn and astrophysicist Janna Levin. Our annual Blaney lecture on contemporary poetics was given by Alicia Ostriker, at the Lillian Vernon Creative Writers House in partnership with the NYU Creative Writing Program.

We partnered with the Association of Writers and Writing Programs to host a reading with Chancellor Emeritus Toi Derricotte, Poet Laureate Fellow Adrian Matejka, and 2016 Walt Whitman Award winner Mai Der Vang.

Our Education Program continued to deliver on our decades-long commitment to inspire the next generation with poetry and assist K–12 teachers by providing a monthly Educator Newsletter, a classroom calendar, and essays about teaching poetry. Our weekly Teach This Poem series, which includes a timely poem and classroom activities prepared by Ansley Moon, our Curriculum Consultant and overseen by our Educator in Residence Mady Holzer. We forged a new partnership with the Library of Congress and its Teaching Primary Sources program, a partnership that enables us to feature primary sources from the library’s vast collection in our lesson plans.

We were pleased to lead the Poetry Coalition, a national alliance of more than 25 poetry organizations, which the Academy co-founded and coordinates. The Poetry Coalition is dedicated to promoting the value poets bring to our culture and the important contribution poetry makes in the lives of people of all ages and backgrounds. Composed of poetry organizations across the United States, the alliance works together to increase the visibility of poetry and demonstrate the art form’s unique ability to promote empathy and contribute to public debate. To support this work, the Academy of American Poets received a $1 million grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, which underwrote a convening in November 2019 hosted by the O, Miami Poetry Festival.

As a supporter of the Academy of American Poets, you are helping grow the audience for today’s poets, celebrate artistic excellence, inspire the next generation of poets and readers, and advocate for the important place the art of poetry has in our culture.
University & College Poetry Prize
2019 Recipients

Established in 1955, the Academy of American Poets’ University & College Poetry Prize program began with ten schools. Today we sponsor more than two hundred annual poetry prizes at colleges and universities across the United States, and we have awarded cash prizes to nearly ten thousand student poets since the program’s inception. Many of our most esteemed poets won their first recognition through an Academy of American Poets College Prize, including Louise Glück, Jorie Graham, Joy Harjo, Robert Hass, Li-Young Lee, Robert Pinsky, Sylvia Plath, and Mark Strand.

We are pleased to announce the winners of our 2019 University & College Poetry Prizes. Each of these winning student poets receives a cash prize, a free yearlong membership to the Academy of American Poets and subscription to American Poets, and publication of their winning poem on Poets.org. In addition, University & College Poetry Prize recipients twenty-three years old or younger are eligible for the Aliki Perroti and Seth Frank Most Promising Young Poet Award.
